What we do

We provide the highest standards of insourced breast clinic services, to help Trusts reduce backlogs, meet demand spikes and run smoothly.

At your location, on your terms, to your standards

As an insourcing provider, we're not just contractors - we're colleagues. We deliver breast clinic services within your premises, using your referral pathways. This ensures accountability to you, and seamless service for your patients.

We recruit like you do

No agencies, no outsourcing. We find reputable specialists within the NHS. This ensures strict adherence to the NHS Code of Conduct, and continuity with the clinical standards your patients expect. All consultant radiologists and surgeons are vetted by our respective clinical leads, often recommended by our core clinical team.

"The clinical and managerial team from interSource were both clinically excellent, professional individuals. Their governance processes were robust, transparent and easily integrated within our services. I am pleased to say that we received positive feedback from patients, carers and our own staff about the extremely high standards of interSource staff. Would fully endorse this provider for its very high standards of practice clinically and managerially."

How insourcing works with us

We take critical work off your hands, and deliver it on your location. This gives you the extra resource you need, integrated into your service, with full visibility.

Discovery

We discuss the demands and bottlenecks you're facing, so we can understand exactly what support you need.

Proposal

We will tailor a plan to your challenges, detailing exactly how we plan to meet your expectations and support you.

Delivery

We manage everything from recruitment and rotas to payroll. We'll use your referral pathways to fit seamlessly into your team.

Review

We'll hold regular reviews to ensure we're meeting expectations and swiftly action any changes.

Grant Hoar

Matthew Armitage

Grant Hoar and Matthew Armitage

Service Delivery Managers for Imaging and Breast Services.

Grant and Matt have worked closely together for the last 15 years, forming a partnership that has benefited many NHS services. The vast majority of their time working together has been on behalf of consultant breast radiologists and breast surgeons. This provides their team access to a vast and established network of specialist clinicians and healthcare workers to support our breast services, ensuring the highest possible level of care to the patients we see. They are both involved in all our breast services, providing their expert experience and insight throughout scoping, implementation, delivery and review.

Below tariff pricing

Flexible, competitive, below tariff pricing. In many cases, we can save Trusts money.

Virtual orientations

To make sure clinicians are briefed, have seen patient files in advance, and are ready to go.

Project management support

We create a project management plan and onboard staff so they can hit the ground running.

Leaders in the field

We recruit and vet the best clinicians from within the NHS, to maintain your high standards

24-7 service

We work when you and your patients need us, including nights, and weekends.

Out-of-hours support

You have a 24-7 point of contact to resolve any issues immediately and ensure service continuity.
